

UGC-Networking Resource Centre Fifth Teacher/Researcher Training Workshop in Biological Sciences at Indian Institute of Science

Applications from teachers and researchers from university and affiliated institutions are invited to the Fifth Workshop in Biological Sciences being held during 1–25 May 2012 at Indian Institute of Science. The workshop consists of theory classes, in basic and contemporary topics in different disciplines in biological sciences and focuses on hands-on training in basic recombinant and general laboratory techniques.

Applicants below 45 years should send a brief bio-data including a paragraph on current research being carried out and list of publications if any to The Coordinator of the UGC Networking Centre. No specific format is required for applying. Since the number of seats is limited, preference will be given from early to mid-career research-oriented university and college teachers, professionals, postdoctoral fellows and registered Ph.D. students. Please note that candidates pursuing M.Sc. degree or working temporarily in projects are not eligible.

Boarding and lodging will be arranged at the Institute, and travel expenses by train, according to the Institute guidelines, will be reimbursed by the UGC-NRC. For more information, you are advised to visit the UGC Networking Centre website at <http://mcbl.iisc.ernet.in/UGC/>.
