

Ministry of Earth Sciences Sponsored Workshop on Luminescence Dating: Methodology and Applications

CSIR-National Geophysical Research Institute (CSIR-NGRI), Uppal Road, Hyderabad 500 007

A comprehensive five-day workshop on 'Luminescence Dating: Methodology and Applications' will be held at CSIR-NGRI during 7–11 December 2019. This workshop will cover all the nitty-gritty of luminescence dating, its methodological aspects, and discuss its applications to Geology, Archaeology and Meteoritics including Space sciences. The workshop will comprise detail lectures on the basic physics, methodology, signals used for dating, age calculation and models, training on measurements; use of open source R software for data analysis and inter-laboratory comparison of calibrations and the dating procedures.

Participation will be open to all – practitioners and end-users. A total of 30 participants will be accepted. Lodging and boarding will be arranged for all. Travel support (limited to third AC train-fare) for a few candidates will be possible.

Interested candidates may apply through online registration (<https://rectt.ngri.res.in/workshopGAM/>) by 15 November 2019. Those selected for participation and travel support will be informed by 20 November 2019.
